More than 50 restaurants are expected to participate in metro Atlanta’s largest restaurant week event, featuring exclusive multi-course prix fixe menus

ALPHARETTA, GA. (SEPTEMBER 26, 2024) – From October 20-26, 2024, more than 50 Alpharetta, Georgia restaurants will offer $25-$50 multi-course prix fixe dinners and similar lunch menus for $20-$35 during Alpharetta Restaurant Week.

Alpharetta Restaurant Week was launched in 2012 by the Alpharetta Convention and Visitors Bureau and Flavors Magazine and has become a foodie tradition in the metro Atlanta area. Starting out as an annual week-long celebration of Alpharetta’s cuisine scene, Alpharetta now boasts a Spring and Fall Alpharetta Restaurant Week, growing more and more with each celebration. This fall marks Alpharetta’s largest restaurant week ever in addition to achieving status as the largest restaurant week event in metro Atlanta. While serving as an economic driver for Alpharetta’s 200+ restaurants, Alpharetta Restaurant Week bolsters the city’s reputation as a foodie destination, where bold, flavorful eats await around every corner.

“Alpharetta Restaurant Week is the perfect time to try new dishes and fall in love with great flavors,” said Janet Rodgers, president and CEO of the Alpharetta Convention and Visitors

Bureau. “We love to see foodies come out to our city to dine with friends, family and coworkers all week long, enjoying tried-and-true favorites and exploring new restaurants. Our local restaurants have a chance to share what makes them unique and guests leave with happy tastebuds. It’s a delicious week for everyone in Alpharetta!”
